

Dogs Will Crawl

(Voice 1: The Observer)

And so it begins
The crucifixion of man
They feed you poison
You take pills for the sickness they created
Barely scraping by
Working for another, serving others
You are the product that's being sold
Lie after lie, over and over
Running out of time
Declining intelligence
Exponential decay
Technological slavery
Industrial servitude
Systems of control
Manufactured consent
The medium is the message
You were always watching television
Swallowed by apathy
Consuming emptiness
Parents without presence
Children without futures
Societies with no history
Communal stagnation
Developmental denial
Digital dystopia
There's no truth inside these walls
And no god walks the halls
We are their pets...
And the dogs will crawl
