

Love-Struck Hate-Fuck

I have integrated into the shadow around me
Floating endlessly in the vacuity
I have no fear now, for I have nothing to lose
I'm beginning to tear away every one of my views
Learning to assess my own ego
My identity begins to show
Everything I've ever loved has burned up before the sun
I stand before god with a loaded gun
He tells me I was never lost
Only finding another threshold to cross
I pull the trigger
Watch as the hole gets bigger
My reality has been shattered
My beliefs beaten and battered
And in distance a voice can be heard
Reverberating something absurd
"Give me back the life you have stolen from me"
"You have raped the spirit and the earth, drained them empty"
"It all begins with discipline"
"And this is how it ends"
